

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

January 31, 2017

National Class Action Certified against Air Canada for Alleged Flight Pass Mispricing Incident

The Superior Court of Québec has just authorized a national class action to be commenced against Air Canada relating to the Flight Pass mispricing incident that occurred on the Air Canada website around August 26, 2015.

The class action lawsuit will seek to claim compensatory damages and/or punitive damages from Air Canada for the mispricing incident. The Superior Court's reasons for authorizing the class action to proceed on the merits can be found here.

For more information, please visit <http://evolinklaw.com/air-canada-flight-pass-class-action/>.

The Superior Court of Québec has appointed the following lawyers as class counsel for this class action lawsuit:

- Simon Lin of Evolink Law Group (Vancouver, BC) – simonlin@evolinklaw.com
- Jérémie John Martin of Champlain Avocats (Montréal, Québec) - jmartin@champlainavocats.com
- Sébastien Paquette of Champlain Avocats (Montréal, Québec) - spaquette@champlainavocats.com